Grammar: Contractions

Contractions are words that have been shortened. We put an apostrophe (') where letters have been skipped, e.g. he will = he'll do not = don't

Write the contractions of these words.

- | | | | |
|-----------|----------|---------|-------------|
| you will | she is | we are | it is |
| I have | had not | he is | we will |
| was not | they are | I am | will not |
| you would | cannot | we have | should have |

Write these sentences without contractions.

- 1 They said they'd call later in the evening.
- 2 We've a lot of homework today.
- 3 'You're not allowed to go to the party,' said Dad.
- 4 That's the boy who didn't do his homework last night.
- 5 Dad couldn't find his car keys this morning.
- 6 She can't have dessert until she finishes her dinner.
- 7 Mike isn't feeling very well today.
- 8 You shouldn't talk to strangers.

Abbreviations are shortened words too. They usually start with a capital letter and need full stops at the end, e.g. Estate = Est.

Note: If the last letter of the shortened word is the same as the last letter of the long word, we do not use a full stop, e.g. Doctor = Dr

Write the full versions of these abbreviations.
